- e. AR 385-10, The Army Safety Program, 7 Nov 08.
- f. DA PAM 385-10, Army Safety Program, 15 Dec 08.
- 2. Purpose: This SOP establishes the 1st Infantry Division and Fort Riley Safety Awards Program to recognize individuals who have made significant contributions to accident prevention. The program is designed to stimulate interest in prevention and promote safety in the workplace by providing an incentive to commanders/directors, Soldiers and civilian employees to maintain a safe and healthful workplace. It describes the eligibility requirements, selection criteria, and nomination processes for each award.
- 3. Applicability: Department of the Army military and civilian personnel (appropriated funded, non-appropriated funded) assigned or attached to 1st Infantry Division and Fort Riley.

4. General:

a. At 1st Infantry Division and Fort Riley, safety is a basic core value. We know that the only way to accomplish the mission, while ensuring the safety of our members and the public, is for everyone to comply with safety requirements and look out for each other. Our vision statement clearly outlines our commitment to safety and how we strive to keep our workplaces, employees and communities safe. The safety awards program supports our efforts by recognizing and promoting excellence in safety; thereby, reinforcing safety as a core value of our organization.

SUBJECT: 1st Infantry Division and Fort Riley Safety Awards and Recognition Program SOP

- b. The safety awards program is a distinct part of our overall employee recognition program. Its purpose is to recognize outstanding safety acts or achievements performed by individuals or groups. The guiding principle of our employee recognition program is simple: Everyone may not win an award, but they can and should know that everything they do is important. Their supervisor should know them, respect their contributions, care about their well being, and let them know they are valuable members of our organization.
- c. Therefore, leaders are expected to use a variety of formal and informal avenues to recognize personnel consistent with the actions performed or level of accomplishment.
- d. Receipt of a safety award does not preclude an individual from receiving a military or civilian award or recognition within the National Security Personnel System performance appraisal process.
- e. General Eligibility. The below general eligibility criteria apply to all awards outlined in this SOP. Specific eligibility requirements for awards are included in the specific award description, selection, and nomination procedures.
- (1) To qualify for an award the nominee must have been assigned to the organization for the entire period covered by the award. The nominee must have not been involved in any of the below activities within the award period: (a) contributed to or caused a recordable injuries; (b) incident resulting in Army property damage or repair costs of $500.00 or more; (c) moving traffic violations involving DA vehicles (tactical and non-tactical); (d) found "at fault" of DA vehicle (tactical or non-tactical) accident.
